

Curtis D. Spencer Biography
2007

Mr. Curtis D. Spencer is the President of IMS Worldwide, Inc. (IMSW), headquartered in Houston, Texas. Mr. Spencer is a nationally regarded expert on matters of logistics and intermodal shipping trends, including inland ports and rail served logistics centers, the development and utilization of FTZ's and homeland security. Mr. Spencer is featured as a speaker at national conferences and workshops more than 50 times a year, and also authors articles for The Journal of Commerce, American Shipper, Inbound Logistics and other newsmagazines.

Mr. Spencer has been the keynote or featured speaker at annual events sponsored by the following associations: RILA, JOC, ULI, NAIOP, SIOR, AAEL, NAFTAZ, AAAE, CSCMP, WERC, ICSC, the San Antonio Inland Ports Conference, and others, on a regional and international scale.

Mr. Spencer was recently appointed to the 9th and 10th COAC Committee, with oversight on Customs and the Department of Homeland Security.

Mr. Spencer is married with 5 children, and lives in the Houston suburb of Clear Lake City.